She became a believer when she was in high school and has served the church since then in many different capacities.

Being Changed People Reaching People for Christ means to me that we are all sinners and fall short of what God would have for each of us. However, as believers, we are changed and have an opportunity to help reach others for Christ which can have a huge influence on them since we are also sinners who need forgiveness.

At the core of Barbara's faith lies the principle of selfless service to others. Her extensive professional experience encompasses facilitating support groups for victims of domestic violence, advocating for women and children, and providing compassionate support as a Stephen Minister. Outside of work, Scott enjoys playing games (card and board), vacationing and spending time with his family, singing, woodworking, and golfing. He is actively involved in the Praise Team, is one of the assistants in the Special Needs classroom, is part of a LIFE Group, and has been a deacon at MCC in the past. He loves being a part of such a vibrant church! The highlight of his week is worshiping together each Sunday!

Being a Changed People Reaching People for Christ means to me, we all are sinners in need of a Savior. Jesus saved us, changed us from the inside out, accepts us, baggage and all! As changed and accepted people, we are called to keep sharing Jesus' love with those around us, planting seeds for God's Kingdom, and trying to reach people where they are, just as Christ reached us and accepted us where we were.
